

$$Smart and Green Day

at the

Kensington Farmer's Market
Oak View Avenue at the Colusa Circle

Sunday, May 17th
10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

FREE!!! New fluorescent torchiere light! Do you have a tall halogen floor lamp in your home? These lamps waste electricity, and are dangerous: they can overheat and start fires. Bring your old torchiere, and Rising Sun Energy Center will give you a new fluorescent version, of the same light quality and brightness, for FREE!

Your old lamp must have a 300 watt or greater halogen bulb. You must be a resident of Marin, Alameda, or Contra Costa County. Please bring your PG&E bill. Both black & white CFL versions are available. Old torchieres will be recycled. Call for more information: 510-665-1501

FREE!!! Sign up for a free green home energy audit to receive free energy-saving light bulbs, free water fixtures, and free household energy tips.

The two programs above are funded through the Marin Energy Watch, a Pacific Gas & Electric Company partnership. The program is funded by California utility ratepayers under the auspices of the California Public Utilities Commission.

FREE!!! One free compact fluorescent light to the first 100 households! Also, pick-up information on energy efficiency programs and rebates.

Thanks to PG&E. (www.PGE.com)

FREE!!! One New and Improved East Bay Bicycle Map: West of the Hills for the first 50 households! Plus information to encourage carpooling, vanpooling, telecommuting, bicycles, and transit from, to and around Kensington.

Thanks to 511 Contra Costa. (www.511contracosta.org)

FREE!!! Get information on how to obtain FREE water-savings devices and rebates from EBMUD and reduce your water bill. Get water conservation tips including reducing water waste. Call toll free at 1-866-40-EBMUD or visit ebmud.com/drought for more drought-related information. We make it easy to conserve.

Thanks to East Bay MUD. (www.ebmud.com/drought)

Printing graciously donated by Marvin Gardens Real Estate, Contra Costa's first certified green real estate company! 510.524.0800

For more information on Smart and Green Day contact Kay Reed at 528-7215.